News Release

UD'S CITYLINKS 90 WILL FOCUS ON ISSUES FOR NEIGHBORHOODS

DAYTON, Ohio, April 11, 1990--CityLinks 90, the University of Dayton's sixth annual conference on issues facing neighborhoods, will be held on Saturday, May 5, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:45 p.m. in Kettering Residence Hall on campus. The conference is designed for those involved with priority boards as well as neighborhood and other community organizations.

The conference is sponsored by UD's Strategies for Responsible Development (SRD)-Neighborhood Development office.

Keynote speaker Roger Jones, vice president for community-based organizations for the Development Training Institute in Baltimore, Md., will address key issues facing neighborhoods in the 1990s. Individual workshop topics will focus on neighborhood businesses, public relations skills, recycling and neighborhood reinvestment.

"In the fall of last year, we combined this conference with a state conference on the same issues held in the middle of the week. This year we have returned to the usual Saturday format to make the conference available to more neighborhood people," said SRD's Marianne Gorczyca, conference organizer.

The conference will include a luncheon and a report by Charles Meadows, Dayton's director for community affairs, on the status of Dayton's War on Drugs task force. Cost of the conference, including lunch, is $10.

Early registration is recommended. For registration materials, call the SRD-Neighborhood Development office at (513) 229-4641.
